Example case: How do you react in the following case study to bring our values to life?

You are planning a publication based on practice reports from 20 countries where Rödl & Partner is represented. In 4 weeks you have to print the publication. How do you proceed?

Caring: "I offer to assume the role of the person in charge."

Guiding: "I will get in touch with the colleagues so that everyone has the same level of information."

German: "I ensure that everything is coordinated in such a way that the 4-week deadline is met in any case."

Entrepreneurial: "The point is to implement the plan for a transnational publication in the best possible way. I can also contribute my own ideas in the process."

International: "I take care of getting all 20 desired countries under one roof and make sure that Rödl & Partner acts as ONE firm."

Success-driven: "With the new publication, we can promote the acquisition of new business and provide clients with a practical report suitable for their plans, for example."

Team spirit: "It's about bringing colleagues from 20 countries into contact with each other so that we can print the publication together within the deadline."
